THE AMERICAN SPEECH AND HEARING ASSOCIATION

The American Speech and Hearing Association is a professional and learned association with a current membership of 4,767. Begun in 1925 as the American Academy of Speech Correction, the organization became the American Society for the Study of Disorders of Speech in 1927, the American Speech Correction Association in 1934, and assumed its present name in 1947. Formal annual conventions have been held since 1925, and membership records have been kept since 1926.

PURPOSE

'The purposes of this organization shall be to encourage basic scientific study of the processes of individual human speech and hearing, promote investigation of speech and hearing disorders, and foster improvement of therapeutic procedures with such disorders; to stimulate exchange of information among persons thus engaged, and to disseminate such information.' By-Laws of ASHA, Article II.

MEMBERSHIP

There are two classes of membership: Members (4,263) are required to hold Bachelor's degrees or higher in the general area of the Association's interests: Associates (504) have no academic requirements. Members who have reached the age of 65 and have retired from active professional work may become Honorary Life Members. Members who have achieved unusual professional or scientific achievement may be elected to the Fellowship upon recommendation by the Committee on Honors.

Membership application cards may be obtained by writing to the Executive Secretary, Kenneth O. Johnson, American Speech and Hearing Association, 1001 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Suite 532, Washington 6, D. C. Signed application cards together with transcripts should be returned to the office of the Executive Secretary for processing. Unless otherwise requested, transcripts will be forwarded to the Chairman of the Committee on Clinical Certification after Membership has been approved.

CLINICAL CERTIFICATION

The Association carries on a program of clinical certification for Members who desire it. For these purposes, Speech and Hearing are regarded as separate areas. In each area two levels are defined: Basic and Advanced. A Basic Certificate indicates that the holder thereof is capable of performing general clinical duties under supervision and guidance; an Advanced Certificate indicates that he has demonstrated ability to conduct clinics, train others in the arts and skills of the profession and is a fully trained professional worker. A qualified Member may be certified in both areas, Speech and Hearing, although joint certificates are not issued. Such a Member may hold a Basic Certificate in one area and an Advanced Certificate in the other, or the levels may be the same. A person must be a Member of the American Speech and Hearing Association before his application for Clinical certification can be processed.

The certification program is carried on through the Association's Committee on Clinical Certification, Dr. Ruth Beckey Irwin, Chairman. All correspondence regarding certification matters should be addressed to: Committee on Clinical Certification, American Speech and Hearing Association, 1001 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Suite 532, Washington 6, D. C.

PLACEMENT REGISTRY SERVICE

A Placement Registry Service is maintained in the office of the Executive-Secretary for all Members seeking employment or change of employment. Two lists are prepared bi-monthly: one of the Members seeking employment, which is sent to potential employers, and one of employers who are registered with the Placement Service, which is sent to listed Members.

PUBLICATIONS

The Association publishes the Journal of Speech and Hearing Disorders and the Journal of Speech and Hearing Research. The Journal of Speech and Hearing Disorders was issued first in 1936 as The Journal of Speech Disorders, and appeared under that title through Volume 12 for 1947. The JSHD is published five times yearly and the Directory of Members is published annually as the October issue. The JSHR is published four times yearly. Monograph Supplements are published irregularly. All Association publications are distributed to Members. Associates receive one of the two journals as they select. Non-members or institutions may subscribe to the Journal of Speech and Hearing Disorders and the Journal of Speech and Hearing Research at $5.00 per year in the United States, $5.50 per year outside the United States, and $1.00 per single copy for the years prior to 1954 and $1.35 per single copy for the subsequent years. All subscriptions should be addressed to the Executive Secretary.

PATTERN OF PROFESSIONAL GROWTH

The following figure shows the growth of membership. The data for years 1926-1935 are taken from the individual dues payment records for those years; for 1936 the data are taken from cash book entries; for the following years the data are taken from the published Membership Directory. The extrapolations shown on the graph are based on formulas used by the Committee on Association Planning.

The accused Member or Associate may present a statement in his behalf to the Council but, if no statement is offered, the Council may act without it.

Section 2. Clinical Certification

The Association defines two levels of clinical competence, Basic and Advanced, in each of the separate areas, speech and hearing. Any Member who so desires may apply for certification at either level in one or both areas; if in both, the level of certification need not necessarily be the same. Upon review of his qualifications in light of the standards set by the Executive Council upon recommendation by the Committees on Clinical Standards in Speech and Clinical Standards in Hearing, the Committee on Clinical Certification will issue, with approval by the Executive Council, the certificate or certificates for which the member qualifies. CODE OF ETHICS of the
AMERICAN SPEECH AND HEARING ASSOCIATION

Section 1. Ethical Responsibilities of Members and Associates

The American Speech and Hearing Association is composed of persons having varying interests and professional duties, but certain broad ethical principles apply to the entire membership. The application of these principles to individual cases will depend on the particular circumstances of the professional duties and status of the persons involved.

It is convenient to divide the ethical responsibilities of persons in clinical professions into (1) those duties arising out of the relation between the professional worker and the person who seeks his assistance; (2) duties owed to other professional workers; and (3) obligations to society. These classifications are arbitrary, for actually the duties and responsibilities of the professional worker are indivisible. Any one of these ethical duties clearly implies the other two.

A. The most frequent professional relationship involving Members of ASHA is that of therapist to patient. The ethical responsibilities of this relationship demand that the welfare of the patient be considered paramount. Accordingly, the therapist must possess suitable qualifications for engaging in clinical work. Measures of such qualifications are provided by the Association's program for certification of the clinical competence of Members. The therapist must use every resource available, including referral to other specialists as needed, to effect as great improvement as possible in the shortest time consistent with good professional practice. Every precaution must be taken against causing any sort of injury to the patient. These general principles are understood and accepted by the profession and the public alike. Their application is the daily task of every professional clinical worker.

Another frequent professional relationship of ASHA Members and Associates is that of teacher to student. The broad ethical responsibilities of the teacher who is a Member or Associate of ASHA are in no way different from those of any other teacher, and no special statement of ethical requirements is in order.

B. The duties owed by Members and Associates to other professional workers are many. They should disseminate results of research and developments in speech and hearing therapy. They should avoid personal controversy, but should seek the freest professional discussion of all theoretical and practical issues. They should establish harmonious relationships with members of other professions, and should especially endeavor to inform them concerning the services that can be rendered by speech and hearing therapists. They should strive to promote the status of ASHA, of the professions of speech and hearing therapy, and of all therapy for and research concerning handicapping conditions.

C. The duties owed to society include, first, all the obligations of good citizenship which devolve upon members of human society. As persons with special training, ASHA Members and Associates have additional special responsibilities. They should help in the education of the public regarding speech and hearing problems and other matters lying within their professional competence. They should seek to provide and expand services to persons with speech and hearing handicaps, and assist in establishing high professional standards for such programs.

Section 2. Unethical practices

A. It shall be considered unethical:

1. To guarantee the results of any speech or hearing consultative or therapeutic procedure. Any guarantee of any sort, express or implied, oral or written, is contrary to professional ethics. A therapist may always make a reasonable statement of prognosis, but a 'cure' or other specific favorable outcome is dependent upon many factors outside the therapist's control. Hence any warranty is deceptive and unethical.

2. To employ blatant or sensational advertising. The only form of advertising permissible is the so-called 'business card,' consisting of the name of the person or institution, the type of therapy offered, office hours, address, and telephone number. The words 'type of therapy' refer to such phrases as 'Speech Therapy,' 'Speech and Hearing Therapy,' 'Disorders of Speech,' and similar phrases. Members not holding clinical certification are expressly forbidden to use the name of the Association in advertising or any other professional promotion.

3. To diagnose or treat speech or hearing defects by correspondence. This does not preclude correspondence follow-up of patients previously seen personally.

4. To violate the patient's confidence by revealing any information obtained from or about him without his express permission. Case records must not be used in teaching in such a way as to permit identification of their subjects.

5. To write or say anything which may discredit professional colleagues or members of allied professions other than that based on adequate and objective evaluation of their work.

6. To exploit patients (a) by accepting for treatment patients whose defects cannot reasonably be expected to improve under therapy offered; (b) by continuing therapy unnecessarily; (c) by charging exorbitant fees.

7. To deal with speech patients requiring medical treatment without the advice of a physician.

8. For any student in training, whether on the undergraduate or the graduate level, to treat speech or hearing patients except as this treatment is given under competent supervision and as part of the training program. It will not, however, be considered unethical for a graduate student who holds a Basic Certificate to engage in part-time speech or hearing therapy which is not part of the training program, provided that explicit approval of the director of such training program is secured in advance. A person holding a full-time clinical position and taking part-time graduate work is not, for the purpose of this Section, regarded as a student in training.

9. For any unqualified Member or Associate to treat speech or hearing patients, except under the supervision of one who is properly qualified.

10. To accept compensation from a dealer in prosthetic or other devices for recommending any particular device.

11. To accept a fee, gift, or other form of gratuity from an applicant in connection with serving as a sponsor of the professional experience of applicants for clinical certification by the American Speech and Hearing Association.

12. To engage directly in the sale of hearing aids, or to participate in the audiological evaluation of an individual patient who, in consequence of such evaluation, purchases a hearing aid from the center, group or organization which has supplied the audiological evaluation or who subsequently purchases a hearing aid from a business subsidiary or other commercial affiliate of such a center, group or organization. The term "other commercial affiliate" shall here be construed to include any form of business arrangement, contractual agreement or ownership whereby either the center, group or organization itself or any member of its administrative and/or professional staff receives financial gain from the sale of hearing aids to hard-of-hearing persons who have sought help from the center, group or organization.

13. To supervise, to direct or to administer any form of activity wherein practices such as described in Paragraph 12 occur. A person employed by a business concern engaged in the manufacture and/or sale of hearing aids and/or audiological instruments shall not be regarded as violating this paragraph provided he does not utilize his professional skills in the examination and counseling of individual clients who are contemplating the purchase of a hearing aid and provided he does not allow his professional titles and accomplishments to be used in promotional campaigns or other activities directed toward the general public and designed to increase sales of hearing aids and/or audiological instruments.

B. In addition to those which have been listed, other practices or actions might have an undesirable effect upon the patient, on relations with other professional personnel, or upon society, and would thus be unethical. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Ethical Practice to decide, in the light of all information it can collect, whether any specific act is in violation of the spirit of these Principles of Ethics.

Definitions

Supervised clinical practice in speech and hearing. This training should be received as part of the applicant's formal academic preparation for the profession of speech and hearing therapist. Such practice training or practicum course is usually taken for college credit and is distinguished from the 'professional experience' also required for the basic and advanced certificates.

Practice training must be received in a situation where conferences can be held with a clinician holding the Advanced Certificate in the appropriate area of speech or hearing. Supervision must involve personal observation and checking of the applicant's diagnostic and therapeutic procedures, frequent checking on his cases, and checking of his case records and reports. The training should provide experience with a variety of case types and ages.

Minimum standards for clinical practice:

1. Two hundred clock hours in such activities as employing diagnostic procedures, carrying out therapy, conferences with his supervisor, and preparing records will be required. When practicum is offered as a specific course the student should spend 45 clock hours in the above-listed activities for each semester hour of credit.

2. Observation time and time spent in preparation for therapy sessions may not be counted toward the 200 clock hours of supervised practicum.

3. The supervisor should observe the student clinician frequently enough to evaluate his skills in employing diagnostic techniques. He should be familiar with the problems presented by the patient in order to evaluate the effectiveness of the therapy employed by the student clinician to meet these problems. While the method of observation will vary, it is suggested that the supervisor should, in some way, observe the student clinician work with each of his patients approximately one out of every four treatment sessions. Diagnostic sessions should be observed more frequently.

4. While experience with a variety of cases is recommended, the beginning student clinician in speech should have an opportunity to work with as least three cases on an intensive basis and over a long enough period of time that positive results may be observed. Additional experience with other cases should be provided. Practice teaching must include some work with functional articulation cases.

The student hearing therapist should have experience with a variety of cases. Some experience should be gained in speech reading, auditory training, and speech improvement. Experience with a variety of diagnostic procedures in addition to pure tone testing is recommended.

5. The 200 clock hours should include experience with cases ranging in age from preschool through adolescence, stressing particularly the elementary school level. In addition to work with these age groups, the student hearing therapist should have some experience with adults, especially those presenting hearing problems common to old age.

6. The supervisor should arrange for each of his student clinicians to observe patients assigned to other student clinicians and then schedule staff meetings or conferences in which clinicians can discuss each other's patients. In this manner the clinical experiences of students may be widened.

7. Each student clinician should keep a log of his supervised practice. This log should contain a brief description of each case examined and treated by the clinician, a record of the amount of therapy provided, and the name of the immediate supervising clinician. Special attention should be given in these logs to the interpretation of the results of diagnostic techniques employed and to the objective evaluation of the effectiveness of the therapeutic procedures employed. Such logs will later serve as the basis for preparing the report of supervised clinical practice required for ASHA certification.

Professional experience in speech and hearing. One year is required for the Basic Certificate and four years are required for the Advanced Certificate. This experience is defined as post-academic (i.e., beyond the academic requirements for the basic certificate), preregistered, paid employment. The candidate must obtain as a sponsor or preceptor a person holding the Advanced Certificate in speech who will certify that the experience has been completed as preregistered.

The applicant's sponsor may be the professor who directed his clinical practice in college, if available, the supervisor of his preregistered position, or any person who holds the Advanced Certificate with whom he can confer about his program.

Minimum standards for professional experience:

1. No credit will be given for any experience prior to the completion of the minimum academic requirements for the Basic Certificate. This means that all persons desiring certification should submit their academic credentials to the Committee on Clinical Certification as soon as they have completed the academic training required for the Basic Certificate. This must, of course, precede the preregistration of professional experience. If there are any deficiencies, they will be notified at once so they can take steps to remove them before they begin their professional experience program.

2. Each candidate for Basic and Advanced certification must, using a special form, register his professional experience program with the Chairman of the Committee on Clinical Certification. This registration must be effected a year prior to the date when the candidate expects to receive credit for a year of professional experience. In registering, the candidate must identify his sponsor. The Clinical Certification Committee will write to the sponsor confirming this relationship and informing the sponsor of his responsibilities. It will be the responsibility of the candidate to obtain forms from the committee and have his sponsor submit a report at the end of each year of experience.

3. It is recommended that there should be at least one conference between a candidate and his sponsor each year. When a personal conference is not feasible, the sponsor should correspond with the candidate about his program. The sponsor should determine if the candidate has discharged his clinical responsibilities to his employer's satisfaction during the year.

4. It is the spirit of this requirement that individuals shall have genuine, serious, responsible, professional experience. Widely scattered and slowly accumulated experience will not meet this requirement. One year of professional experience is defined as at least nine months of full time clinical work (minimum of 30 hours per week). No credit will be given for experience amounting to less than 15 hours per week. Persons devoting less than 30 hours per week to clinical activities may have to spend additional time to complete their professional experience requirement.

5. Professional experience is construed to mean direct clinical work with patients, consultations with parents, teachers, etc., examinations of patients, record keeping, or any other duties relevant to a bona fide program of clinical work. If the applicant has teaching or research duties, as in most college and university situations, such teaching or research should not constitute more than one-third of his load if in speech correction courses nor more than one-fifth if in other areas. If the teaching load is heavier than indicated above, an additional amount of experience may be required.

Provisional Basic Certificate. The Committee on Clinical Certification will send each person who satisfactorily completes the minimum academic requirements for the Basic Certificate a letter indicating that these requirements have been met and that upon the satisfactory completion of a year of professional experience the applicant may be granted the Basic Certificate. This letter may be shown to prospective employers as evidence of certification status.

Sponsor Privilege. The certification requirements are interpreted to permit members who have completed the academic requirements for Advanced Certification and who have been awarded Basic certification to supervise the practice training of persons working toward Basic certification and to serve as sponsors of the professional experience of applicants for Basic certification.

It is to be noted that the Committee on Clinical Certification must certify that the academic work for the Advanced certificate has been completed before the member is actually eligible to serve as a sponsor and that a sponsor can assume responsibility only for the area (speech or hearing) in which he meets the certification requirements.

Procedures to be Followed in Applying for Clinical Certification.

CLINICAL CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS of the AMERICAN SPEECH AND HEARING ASSOCIATION

To help the speech and hearing handicapped obtain high quality rehabilitation programs and to maintain standards throughout the profession, the American Speech Correction Association in 1942 adopted a program for certifying speech correctionists. When the Association was broadened to include persons interested in hearing, standards for certification in this area were developed. In 1950 the Association voted to reorganize its membership framework and, in this reorganization, clinical certification was removed as a membership requirement. There are now two classes of membership, Member and Associate. To become a member an applicant is only required to hold the Bachelor's degree or higher in the general area of the Association's interests; Associates have no academic requirements. There are four certificates of clinical competence: the Basic and the Advanced in Speech, and the Basic and the Advanced in Hearing.

These requirements were recommended by the Committee on Clinical Standards in Speech (Margaret E. Hall, Jack Matthews, D. C. Spriestersbach, Kenneth Scott Wood, Eugene T. McDonald, Chairman) and the Committee on Clincial Standards in Hearing (Merle Ansberry, Hallowell Davis, LeRoy D. Hedgecock, Hayes A. Newby, Leo G. Doerfler, Chairman), and approved by the Executive Council and by the Membership at the 1951 Annual Convention. The published statement was prepared by the Chairmen of the two Committees and revised in 1955 to include action taken after the requirements went into effect.

At the 1950 Annual Convention a Committee on Clinical Standards in Speech and a Committee on Clinical Standards in Hearing were established to study and define the requirements for certification of clincal competency in their respective areas. After a detailed analysis of certification problems, these Committees developed tentative minimum standards for the basic and advanced certificates in the two fields and submitted their proposals to persons who had previously been certified for their evaluation. These standards were carefully considered by the Executive Council. At the 1951 Annual Convention, the Association approved a set of minimum standards for certification which reflected the thinking of the Standards Committees, persons in the field who had been previously certified, the Executive Council, and the Association Membership. These standards are outlined in Table 1.

Also, at the 1950 Annual Convention, a Committee on Clinical Certification was established to process applications for clinical certification, employing the qualification standards recommended by the Clinical Standards Committees. The By-Laws of the Association, as amended, specify that this Committee shall consist of an elective chairman and at least eight other appointive members, four or more in speech and four or more in hearing, all of whom hold the Advanced Clinical Certificate, and that each application shall be acted upon by at least two members holding Advanced Certification in the area (speech or hearing) in which the applicant is seeking certification, plus one other Committee member.

Notes concerning certification requirements

1. These listings are not necessarily course titles but rather suggestions of course content.
2. Any excess credits in 'Basic areas' and 'Specialized, professional course content' may be counted as electives in 'Other areas.'
3. In evaluating credits, one quarter hour will be considered the equivalent of two-thirds of a semester hour.
4. Credit for theses may be allowed if the research is relevant to the area in which the applicant wishes to be certified. The maximum number of semester hours for theses credits shall be as follows: For the Master's degree—6 semester hours; for the Ph.D. degree—12 semester hours.
5. Requirements for the Advanced certificate include those for the Basic certificate. Candidates for the Advanced certificate have some options in distributing their training among the content areas; however, in each group the indicated minimum requirements must be met. No more than the indicated number of credits in each group will be counted toward the required total of 60 credits.
6. A certification fee of $15.00 is required for the processing of each application filed after January 1, 1954. It is payable as follows: $7.50 to be sent to the Chairman of the Clinical Certification Committee with the application forms (this amount is not to be refunded if the application is not approved) and $7.50 to be sent when the application is approved but before the certificate is issued. Checks should be made payable to the American Speech and Hearing Association.
7. A fee of $25.00 will be charged for an examination used to meet requirements in lieu of academic credit.

Certification under the 'Grandfather' Provision (Old Standards)

By council action, the deadline for applying for certification under this provision has been extended indefinitely.

All persons who completed the academic requirements for the now obsolete Clinical Membership by June 15, 1952, and who have one year of experience may apply for Basic certification under the 'Grandfather' provision. All persons who completed the academic requirements for the now obsolete Professional Membership by June 15, 1952, and who have four years of experience may apply for Advanced certification under the 'Grandfather' provision. Those applying for certification under this provision may report professional experience retroactively if their sponsors are willing.

Council approved the following three recommendations of the Committee on Clinical Standards in Hearing at the 1954 Annual Convention:

Dual certification at the advanced level may be awarded to any applicant who was a professional member of the Association prior to June 15, 1952 and who can present evidence of recognized professional activity in both areas prior to June 15, 1952.

Evidence of professional activity should be in the form of clinical practice, clinical supervisory responsibility, teaching, publications, participation in convention programs, direction of graduate research, committee assignments outside one's own institution, and similar high level professional activities.

Persons wishing to have this principle applied to their applications must submit all the materials required for a regular 'Grandfather' provision evaluation and be prepared to provide for the Committee on Clinical Certification such other data as may be required for the proper application of the principle.

The following are the requirements for the different types and levels of membership as defined by the Committee on Credentials in June 1949, and interpreted by the Executive Council in 1952 and 1953:

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS FOR HEARING PROGRAMS OFFERING GUIDANCE IN SELECTION OF HEARING AIDS

The American Speech and Hearing Association recognizes that the activities of a hearing service are diverse. No single definition can cover all the legitimate activities that such programs incorporate. In general, such programs offer education and rehabilitational services but do not engage in the sale or maintenance of hearing aids. However, the assessment of hearing to evaluate the potentialities which individuals have for use of hearing aids is frequently an important phase of a program's activity.

A hearing center may be associated with an educational institution, a hospital, or a service agency. There is no inherent reason why such a center could not be a private venture, provided its practices and ethics conform to recognized professional standards. The center may offer medical services if appropriately affiliated and staffed. In any event, the services of the center are distinguished from the general practice of otolaryngology because of their emphasis on nonmedical rehabilitation. Conversely, its services are distinguished from schools whose purpose is the long term academic training of pupils with auditory impairments.

The American Speech and Hearing Association is committed to the philosophy that every activity worthy of designation as a hearing program should satisfy realistic standards insuring its competence. Generally speaking, there is a widely recognized frame of reference for such standards. The qualifications which a center's personnel may be expected to satisfy are implicit in (1) the degree requirements of institutions offering training in audiology, (2) the requirements of the several states for certification of teachers, and (3) the Association's own requirements for clinical competence in the field of hearing. In turn, competent personnel will make demands on administrative superiors which will encourage adequate physical facilities and equipment for the center. Thus, there does not, at the moment, seem to be a need to formulate requirements covering all phases of a hearing program's activities. The principles already established by current practices and a general program of assuring recognition of competent professional workers appear ample safeguards.

The situation is somewhat different when one of the services offered is guidance in selection of hearing aids. This consideration leads to the following statement of requirements which the American Speech and Hearing Association deems minimal if a center engages in this activity.

Minimum Requirements

A hearing program shall be con-

These requirements were recommended by the Committee on Minimum Requirements for Hearing Clinics (Jack L. Bangs, George A. Falconer, Wallace A. Goates, John W. Keys, Donald M. Markle, S. Richard Silverman, Jesse J. Villarreal, Raymond T. Carhart, Chairman) and approved by the Executive Council at the 1952 Annual Convention.

sidered as equipped to engage adequately in the task of guidance in the selection of hearing aids only if it satisfies all the criteria listed below.

I.A. The center shall follow a sound plan for obtaining otological guidance and advice regarding its policies and practices.

B. The center shall follow a sound policy of obtaining otological diagnosis and adhering to medical recommendations.

C. Except where there is medical approval to the contrary, final recommendations regarding hearing aids will be withheld until medical or surgical regimes advised by the otolaryngologist shall be completed.

D. If appropriate medical clearance is obtained, the center may make ear impressions and may arrange for the manufacture of earpieces as an adjunct to proper testing.

II.A. Personnel shall have qualifications equivalent to those specified by the American Speech and Hearing Association for clinical certification in the hearing field.

B. The individual supervising the program of hearing aid selection shall satisfy the qualifications for the Advanced Certificate in Hearing. (Since this certification has just been established, an appropriate time must be allowed in order for persons currently in such positions to demonstrate adequacy of their qualifications.)

C. Persons conducting the tests and other routine activities of the program for hearing aid selection should satisfy the qualifications for the Basic Certificate in Hearing.

D. A person who does not satisfy Criterion C may be used only if three conditions are met.[1]

1. His activities shall be directly supervised by a certified member of the center's staff.

2. The evaluation of findings and the clinical decisions arising therefrom shall remain the responsibility of the staff member.

3. He shall have had sufficient instruction, both theoretical and practical, to qualify him for participation in the program before undertaking the above duties.

III.A. Special testing rooms shall be so constructed and located as to supply a physical environment which is acceptable for the use to which they are put. The basic requirement is that all special facilities must make possible the validity of the tests or other techniques conducted therein.

B. The electro-acoustic and other equipment employed in testing patients shall satisfy the conventional standards for adequacy. The equipment shall be used in such manner as to maintain the validity of the tests employed. This requirement includes arrangements to keep the equipment properly caliberated and in good working condition.

Current practice indicates that ordinarily the minimum equipment is that which allows the exploration of threshold for pure tones as well as both threshold and supra-threshold hearing for speech. Procedures may change as a result of advancing knowledge, and it is explicitly intended that the equipment shall be consistent with contemporary clinical standards.

IV. The hearing program shall

[1]It is the sense of this requirement that students-in-training shall not be substituted for qualified personnel. Students-in-training are here defined as individuals engaged in mastering the techniques involved in hearing aid selection.

have ample and satisfactory provisions for the educational and rehabilitational management of the persons examined. Either the center must offer these facilities itself, or a sound plan of referring cases for these services must be in effect.

V. Any stock of commercial hearing aids with which cases are tested shall represent a reasonable sample of the hearing aid characteristics which are currently available. Furthermore, provisions shall be made to keep these hearing aids in proper working condition.

VI. The center shall not engage in the sale of hearing aids or accessories.

VII. The center shall adhere to sound ethical practices.

A. The code of ethics of the American Speech and Hearing Association shall be observed.

B. The center shall maintain a positive policy of offering access to its philosophy and method of operation.

C. The center shall not release advance information on its recommendations to a commercial organization or an individual engaged in the sale of hearing aids.

VIII. The center shall adhere to a policy of referring patients about to purchase hearing aids only to commercial organizations and individuals who have demonstrated their integrity, their competence in dealing with hard of hearing persons, and the adequacy of both their facilities and services.

CLINICAL CERTIFICATION

MEMBERS

'The Association defines two levels of clinical competence, Basic and Advanced, in each of the separate areas, speech and hearing. Any Member who so desires may apply for certification at either level in one or both areas; if in both, the level of certification need not necessarily be the same. Upon review of his qualifications in light of the standards set by the Executive Council upon recommendation by the Committees on Clinical Standards in Speech and Clinical Standards in Hearing, the Committee on Clinical Certification will issue, with approval by the Executive Council, the certificate or certificates for which the Member qualifies. These certificates will be renewed annually as long as the individual remains a Member in good standing of the Association. Certification by the Association shall be considered as evidence of clinical competency.'
